Guidance Counselor

We feel that L. H. S. has been very fortunate in having with us again Mr. Richard Blais, our guidance counselor. Mr. Blais is well liked among the students at L. H. S., and he possesses such assets which tend to make him well liked by all the students and easily gains the confidence of most of them. In turn he shows a sincere interest in all the students of L. H. S. and is ready and willing to help each one of them at any time.

He also administers the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Ohio Psychological Test, and various other scholarship tests or tests required for college interest.

In the day and age when a college education is becoming very important it is evident how much a guidance counselor, a man such as Mr. Blais contributes to our school system.

Senior Prophecy

Seniors of 1960

While walking down a lonely road;

Thinking of old L.H.S.

Into the cemetery I strolled;

Where lie my friends at rest. As I stood by the tombstones, I read,

The story of my classmates long dead.

As I entered the cemetery gates I saw first, the tombstone Aevelyn Ayers, who tripped and fell into an open grave. Next, I came to the marker of Joe Bowman, a policeman, who was killed in a gun fight with gangsters.

Not far away lay Carolyn Branstetter, who died of an acute appendicitis. Beside Carolyn was the final resting place of Joyce Branstetter. Poor Joyce had an overdose of bleach.

As I traveled on, I came to Bette Braxton, who fell out of her chair and broke her neck while sleeping in English class. Joyce Calvin was next, God rest her soul. Joyce died of a severe case of the hiccups. Farther up the road was buried Ed Camara, who drowned swimming the river to Running Bear. Then came Golda Cannon, poor girl, who was strangled by her own hair.

Margaret Clarke came next. She fell in a sewer ditch on the way to her wedding. I proceeded on to find Phyllis Copher, who died of boredom after her 21st child. Next, I read that Betty Davis, while standing at attention in the Marines, died of embarrassment when her girdle snapped. After that shocking news I found out that Diane DeYong was swept off her feet by a swamp angel.

Not far away I came to the grave of Annette Farris. She just plain died. Butch Griffith was shot by Sudy York when she became tired of playing secondfiddle to a carburetor. J. W. Griffith was torn to pieces by a creature from the barnyard. Then there was Louise Hill, who fell out of a basement window, was shot four times with a pea shooter, strangled with wet spaghetti and keeled over in shock.

Mack Jennings was not far. On a day not long ago, Mr. Williams and Mack were playing Russian roulette. Guess who lost. Goodbye, Mack.

Then I saw the tombstone of Ronnie Kelly and on it read, died of severe stomach pains after eating green cheese from the moon. The last remains of Jim Leeds lay only a few feet away. This poor disillusioned boy died of a heart attack when he found out there was no Santa Claus.

As I traveled on my way I came to Vicki Logan. Her father caught her smoking, and she choked on the filter. Then came Jane Menefee, who was run over by a white bulldozer. Not far was Rita Moore. This sentimental girl drowned in her own tears. Sam Morris, while in medical school was mistaken for a cadaver.

Then I learned that Carolyn Penn, enjoying herself at a party, was hit in the head with a flying champagne cork. Carolyn Price fell out of an upstairs window while staring across the street.

I walked on and found Glen Randal, who suffocated after being locked in the bookkeeping room. Robbyn Ringhausen was next in line. She died of complications after being run through the duplicating machine by Miss Hastings.

Ferne Roberts passed on with her head caught in the bell of her saxophone. Another tombstone read, "Fred Rottman died of unknown causes, in an unknown place, at an unknown time, with unknown people around."

I then learned that Sandy Sitton died of frustration trying to find the right car on Georgia Street. Rebel Jerry Smith was shot when found to be a Confederate spy. Next came Kay Stephens. This poor girl was trampled by a herd of wild pigs. As I continued on my way I came to the grave of Mike Stephens, who caught his head in a drainage pipe.

Louise Sterne was only a short distance away. She was scared to death by a "hoot" owl. Next, I came to Sandra Turner, who got her head caught in a basketball goal while making a heroic attempt to retrieve the ball. Another of my classmates, Tom Vetter, was run over by a herd of turtles.

The next marker read, "Steve Waite died of silence." Lona Wallace was executed for the murder of her husband, Tom. Then I came to Kenneth Ward, whose vocal cords snapped while trying to win the national pig calling contest. Next came Terry Weaver who was sucked into a milking machine. The next classmate I came to was Donna Willard. Her little red kiddy car was just too much for her.

I walked a little farther and came to the resting place of Harold Wilson. Charlotte pulled the string around her little finger just a little too tight. Dick Woodfield got his ears caught in a moving elevator. On the next tombstone I read that Phyllis Woodward, while trying to elope, climbed out of the wrong window. Jim York, one of my little classmates, was playing Tarzan and the grape vine broke.

Tom Gamble, one of my fellow students for which there is no tombstone, disappeared; and it is not known what happened to him. However, we the long gone class of 1960 feel that, because he was always tardy in school, he will be the last to join us in our happy resting place.

Senior History

The Senior class of 1960 began with eighty members on September 4, 1956. Class sponsors were Mr. Frank English and Mr. George Smith. Officers for the year were: Jerry Smith, president; Jim York, vice-president; Joyce Menefee, secretary-treasurer; and Harriette Hampton, student council representative.

Homecoming attendants were Marleen Farrar, escorted by Jim York, and Harriette Hampton, escorted by Skip Beadle. Sally Stark, escorted by Terry Weaver, was the attendant at the Barnwarming Dance. The Freshman Prince at the Valentine Dance was Eddie Camara, accompanied by Carolyn Penn.

Six Freshman boys went out for football. Jim York and Skip Beadle lettered in that sport, and they were initiated into the "L" Club. Five boys went out for basketball, and five for track. Sally Stark was the Freshman cheerleader. Three girls played on the Bullette team. Fourteen Freshmen represented our class in the L.H.S. Band.

The Freshman Highlights reporter was Sally Stark, and the Alamo section editor was Dick Woodfield.

Our Sophomore year was guided and directed by Mrs. Ellen Morrow and Mr. Philip Williams. Class officers for the Sophomore year were: Jerry Smith, president; Sam Morris, vice-president; Harriette Hampton, secretary-treasurer; and Jane Menefee, student council representative.

Our Homecoming attendants were Carolyn Penn, escorted by Skip Beadle, and Joyce Calvin, escorted by Jim York. At the F. F. A. Barnwarming, Joyce Calvin again represented the Sophomore class. Harold Wilson, accompanied by Carolyn Penn, attended the court of the Valentine King at the F. H. A. Sweetheart Dance.

Seven of our Sophomore boys made the basketball teams, eight of them made the football teams, and seven of them made the track team. A number of these boys were initiated into the "L" club. Quite a few of our Sophomores participated in F. F. A., F. H. A., and in the Band, Glee Club, and Pep Squad. Five Sophomore girls were on the Bullette basketball team.

The money-making projects for that year were; a bake sale, the Sophomore 'April Love' Dance, and concession stands at the football games, basketball games, and the annual basketball tournament.

The Sophomore cheerleader was Rita Moore. The Sophomore Highlights reporter was Vicki Logan. Vicki was also the Outstanding Sophomore of L. H. S. The Alamo Sophomore section editor was Sandy Sitton.

At the end of our Sophomore year in high school, our class had decreased in size from approximately eighty "green Freshmen" to fifty-six Sophomores, or "future Juniors."

Well, there we were, a little bit older and, we hoped, a little wiser as we entered our Junior year at L. H. S. Our very able sponsors were Mrs. George Daniel and Mr. Aaron Hemphill. Our class officers were: Jim Leeds, president; Sandy Sitton, vice-president; Vicki Logan, secretary-treasurer; and Shirley Windmiller, student council representative.

The Junior Homecoming attendants were Carolyn Price, escorted by Ed Camara, and Joyce

Calvin, escorted by Jim Leeds. The Junior Barnwarming attendant was Carolyn Penn, escorted by J. W. Griffith. Jim York received the honor of being the Junior Prince at the F. H. A. Sweetheart Dance, and he was accompanied by Carolyn Penn. On May 16, 1959, the class sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. The theme of the banquet and prom was "Sayonara."

Quite a number of Juniors joined in the extracurricular activities that year. There were eight Junior boys participating in football, four boys in basketball, and six boys on the track team. There were nine Junior girls on the Bullette basketball team.

Cheerleaders from the Junior class were Rita Moore and Robbyn Ringhausen. Various money-making projects were also undertaken our Junior year. The Highlights reporter was Vicki Logan, and the Alamo section editor was Sandy Sitton. Sandy was also the Highlights Editor, with Kay Stephens as Assistant Editor.

Last, but not least, our final year--honorable, sophisticated Seniors! (At least that's what they told us!) We began our last year with forty-seven members. Our class sponsors were Mrs. Ellen Morrow, Principal George Daniel, and Mr. Philip Williams. Our class officers were: Vicki Logan, president; Lona Dewey, vice-president; Sandy Sitton, secretary; Ferne Roberts, treasurer; and Harold Wilson, student council representative.

Joyce Calvin represented our class as Homecoming Queen and was crowned by Jim York. The Senior attendants were Kay Stephens, escorted by Dick Woodfield, and Margaret Clarke, escorted by Steve Waite. Lona Dewey was the Senior Barnwarming attendant and was escorted by Hardy Wilson. Sam Morris, crowned by Sandy Sitton, the F. H. A. President, represented our class as Valentine King of the Sweetheart Dance. Sam was also escorted by Sandy. The Senior Prince was Butch Griffith, escorted by Carolyn Penn.

Senior boys who made the football teams were: Jim York, Jim Leeds, Skip Beadle, Dick Woodfield, Mike Stephens, Steve Waite, and Ed Camara. Senior boys on the Bulldog basketball teams were: Harold Wilson, Dick Woodfield, Butch Griffith, and Sam Morris. The Senior members of the track team were: Joe Bowman, Dick Woodfield, Mike Stephens, Butch Griffith, Jim York, and Sam Morris. The Senior girls on the Bullette basketball team were: Diane DeYong, Bette Braxton, Carolyn Branstetter, Carolyn Penn, Joyce Calvin, Sandra Turner, Rita Moore, and Sandy Sitton. All the Senior girls played on the "A" team.

Money-making projects for our Senior year were: bake sales, concession stands at the football and basketball games and tournament, coat-check stand, and the Senior Variety Show.

Jim York honored the Senior Class by serving a very good term as Student Council President. The Highlights reporter was Sandy Sitton. The Alamo Senior section editor was also Sandy Sitton.

During the course of our four years in high school at L. H. S., we lost approximately twenty-three members of our class. Two of our girls, who had gotten married, continued through school and completed their high school education. Our class almost always had a good turnout in organizations such as F. H. A., F. F. A., F. T. A., Pep Squad, Glee Club, "L" Club, as well as in all the sports. Also thirty-two Seniors, along with Mr. Daniel, Mrs. Artus, and Mr. Williams, went on the annual Senior Trip down South.

We, the Seniors of '60, wish to thank the Louisiana High School faculty for their patience, guidance, understanding, and general help throughout all our high school years. To these people we owe a great deal.

Senior Will

Seniors of 1960

- I, Eavelyn (quiet one) Ayers do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be perfectly quiet at all times to Charlotte (anything you can say, I can say louder) Wood.
- I, Joe (You think Eddie's ornery, look at me) Bowman do hereby will and bequeath my ability to cheat in English IV to Ray (hotrod) Krigbaum in case he ever needs it.
- I, Carolyn (I get a kick from champagne) Branstetter do hereby will and bequeath my ability to run around with girls who are hooked and stay unattached myself, to Margaret (but who wants to stay unattached) Henderson.
- I, Joyce (my Chick doesn't lay eggs) Branstetter do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have blonde hair and still look natural to Gayle (I tried it and it didn't work) Collier.
- I, Bette (not everybody can sleep in English IV and get away with it) Braxton do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play basketball to Joyce (I can already play) Smith.
- I, Joyce (fickle's really my middle name) Calvin do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have too many irons in the fire and only get burned once to Kathleen (but Joyce, I'm smarter than that) Maddern.
- I, Edward (Pancho) (What do you mean 'why do I go to church') Camara do hereby will and bequeath my ability to shoot off my mouth to Bill (but silence is golden) Leverington.
- I, Golda (of course my hair is naturally blonde) Cannon do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be engaged to a fellow 150 miles away to Margie (this week I'm engaged, next week I'll just go steady) Branstetter.
- I, Margaret (but Bob, why do you always have to work when there's a dance in St. Clemens) Clarke do hereby will and bequeath my maneuvering ways to get there anyway to Barbara (what Bill didn't know didn't hurt him) Thomas.
- I, Phyllis (so who needs a Senior trip) Copher do hereby will and bequeath my ability to drop secretarial-practice and still stay in good with Miss Hastings to Karen (how do you do the lunch report) Kelly.
- I, Betty (my hair has always been this light) Davis do hereby will and bequeath my ability to join the Women's Marine Corps to Mary (who wants to join the WOMEN'S Marine Corps) Dewey.
- I, Diane (I found my thrill in Pleasant Hill) DeYong, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play drums to Kay (I hear my drums in Bowling Green) Shive.
- I, Annette (I'd rather walk than ride) Farris, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make E's in French to Geneva (but I said it, I said it! Mrs. Schaper) Farris.
- I, Tom (but Mr. Giltner, I won't be late again) Gamble, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to eat candy in 7th period reading room to Teeny (but I already have the ability) Hutt.
- I, Ima (if I can't say it right, I just won't say it) Gillette, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to live on a farm and like it to Beverly (but there are more boys in town) Weaver.
- I, J. W. (but who fell up the steps in assembly) Griffith, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have a good term as president to my good friend Morris (that's a cinch) Patrick.
- I, Butch (I don't call pigs, I call Sudy pigs) Griffith, do hereby will and bequeath my ability not to go steady until my Senior year to Bobby (but who wants to wait that long) Shields.
- I, Vicki (my IQ's 200 Ronnie, what's yours) Logan do also hereby will and bequeath my ability to not go steady until my Senior year to Suanne (you save 'em, I'll send 'em) Collier.
- I, Louise (I've got a diamond too) Hill, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to change my name before wedding bells ring to Georgina (but my name's JoAnn now) Shade.
- I, Mack (I'm sorry Mr. Williams, but I can't agree) Jennings do hereby will and bequeath my sassy big city ways to Bill (is Boston big enough) Davidson.
- I, Ronnie (well at least I think I'm smarter than Vicki) Kelly do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have a date and not spend a dime to Herbert (you supply the girl, I'll supply the dime) Griffith.
- I, Jim (but Sally, I didn't request Hot Cross Buns) Leeds, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have my cake and eat it too, to Steve (You've got nothing on me) Foland.
- I, Jane (have you ever parked in a bulldozer) Menefee do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get all my clothes at a discount to any girl who isn't that lucky.

I, Rita (who says dynamite doesn't come in small packages) Moore do hereby will and bequeath my ability to work in a hospital to Karen (I can't stand the sight of blood) Carr.

I, Sam (well naturally the democrats will win the election) Morris do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep and maintain an open mind at all times and in all classes and my wonderful, devastating, enviable, unsurpassable ability to interpret, predict, elucidate, constitute, generate, and originate to Hardy (thanks Sam, but I have all those things) Wilson.

I, Carolyn (I'm not 21, but I can still go to the Chase Club) Penn do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go steady my Senior year and still not go steady to Marilyn (but I don't want her to kiss me) Knaus.

I, Carolyn (Oh, to be eighteen) Price do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep secrets for quite some time to JoAnn (I'd rather tell it if there's something to tell) Ulry.

I, Glen (heh, heh, heh) Randall do hereby will and bequeath my crazy laugh to Tom (thanks, but I've got my own style, tee hee) Camara.

I, Robbyn (Dick Woodfield, what did you say your favorite recreation was on the Senior trip) Ringhausen do hereby will and bequeath my pinchy ways to Sudy (but Butch pinches back) York, and all my love problems to Karen (which problem are you leaving me Robbyn) Porter.

I, Ferne (musically inclined) Roberts do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep a sweet disposition and never talk about anyone to Elizabeth (I already have a sweet disposition) Conrad.

I, Fred (Hotrod's my middle name) Rottman do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep my traffic violations out of the public eye to Lonnie (but I'm not a traffic violator) Sutton.

I, Sandy (since I have a diamond he must've missed me) Sitton do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have the same class ring off and on for three years to Phyllis (I've got a different one every week) Bono.

I, Jerry (I'm not as bashful as you think) Smith do hereby will and bequeath my ability to celebrate Easter, Christmas, George Washington's Birthday, Father's Day, and Good Friday all on New Year's Eve but be real good on the Senior trip to Tommy (who needs holidays as an excuse) Thomas.

I, Kay (hey Robbyn honey, let's go to Bowling Green) Stephens do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get to Bowling Green at least two nights a week and to never give up a lost cause to Jackie (Oh, Billy Joe, you're so dumb!) Cashman.

I, Mike (Dumplin's not really my name) Stephens do hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay in good with Mrs. Morrow by making very high grades on certain tests to Karl (I really need to stay in good with her) Dewey.

I, Louise (I'm going to be an X-ray technician) Sterne do hereby will and bequeath my natural red hair to Roberta and Rosalee (what makes you think ours isn't natural) Smith.

I, Sandra (yes I'm good at volleyball) Turner do hereby will and bequeath my ability to speak fluent French to Imogene (thanks Sandra, but I'll make it) Hutt.

I, Tom (if you only knew what was on my devious little mind) Vetter do hereby will and bequeath my ability to sleep in Mrs. Morrow's class to Larry (but that's the easy way out) Patrick.

I, Steve (not many Seniors drive Cadillacs) Waite do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be a gentleman to Larry (why be a conformist) Clark.

I, Lona (Vallie, why don't you speak to me anymore) Wallace do hereby will and bequeath my ability to not go on the Senior Trip and like it to Patty (I'll go if Bob does) Abel.

I, Kenneth (who's Kenneth, my name's Bucky) Ward do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go with Freshman girls to Joe Ed (girls? what are girls?) Luck.

I, Terry (just because I'm a farmboy doesn't mean I don't like Kansas City) Weaver do hereby will and bequeath my ability to take vocational agriculture all four years to Chuck (what has Ag. to do with Medicine) Lewellen.

I, Donna (one would have to be crazy to pantomime Mr. Williams) Willard do hereby will and bequeath my ability to put on an intelligent front to Judy (but I don't need to put on a front) Glenn.

I, Harold (but Charlotte really does trust me) Wilson do hereby will and bequeath my ability to flirt with Carolyn all during English IV to Bob (but Harry, she won't be here next year) Battern.

I, Dick (little but mighty) Woodfield do hereby will and bequeath my ability to really be in love with only me to Doug (I'm way ahead of you Dick) Mullen.

I, Phyllis (Oh, those fishermen) Woodward do hereby will and bequeath my ability to master the art of the dictophone to Marilyn (but I can master almost anything now) Miller.

I, Jim (you'd better be nice to me or I'll sit on you) York do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be nice all the time to Ireland (I'm always nice) Allensworth.

We, the Seniors of '60 do hereby will and bequeath our corner in the auditorium to the Seniors of '61 and all our many hours of studying to the faculty of L. H. S.

Junior History

The Junior Class of 1959-1960 completed its third outstanding high school year with a record of which it is very proud. Represented in all extracurricular activities and ranking very high in scholastic average, the class is to be recognized for its achievements.

The class officers were: President, Cecil Logan; Vice-President, Sandra Rule; Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Taliaferro, and Judy Glenn and Forrest Triplett represented the class on the Council.

The class yielded its two-year winning streak in the Homecoming Parade Float Contest, but took second place. Kathleen Maddern, escorted by Steve Foland, and Louise Hobkirk, with Don Lewis, were Homecoming Queen attendants.

Sandra Rule broke the tradition of the Barnwarming Queen being a Senior. Her Junior attendant was Rita Sparks escorted by Herbert Griffith.

The class was very active in sports. The football lettermen were: Nellis Danner, Stephen Smith, Larry Patrick, Doug Mullen, Joe Wells, Herbert Griffith, Carey Turner, Charles Elgin, Don Lewis, Steve Foland, Hardy Wilson and Cary Rohr. Basketball lettermen were: Morris Patrick, Larry Patrick, Frank Holiday, Gerald Beer, Cecil Logan and Bill Davidson. Track lettermen were: Steve Foland, Don Lewis, Charles Lewellan, Joe Wells, Doug Mullen, Gerald Beer, Herbert Griffith, Morris Patrick, Frank Holiday, and Stephen Smith. Don Lewis was elected to the All Conference Second Football Team, and Gerald Beer was elected to the All Conference Second Basketball Team.

Sissy Taliaferro, a third year cheerleader, and Charlotte Wood were the peppy Junior cheerleaders.

The Junior girls who lettered in basketball were: Mary Taliaferro and Margaret Branstetter.

Equally as outstanding in scholastics as in sports, the Juniors took several awards. Paul Smith was chosen to attend All State Band. Vallie Davis won the second shorthand award, Marilyn Miller the shorthand and typing awards, Doug Mullen the American History and English III award, Kathy Maddern the French award, Roger Gunning the chemistry award, and Judy Glenn a French award and Journalism award. There were twelve two semester honor students.

Morris Patrick, Roger Gunning, Forrest Triplett, Raymond Krigbaum, and Joe Wells were chosen to go to Boys' State, and Judy Glenn was chosen to attend Girls' State.

Roger Gunning and Judy Glenn edited the Highlights, and Ray Krigbaum and Vallie Davis were co-assistant editors of the Alamo.

The class ended the year as hosts of the annual Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. The theme was Gay Paris.

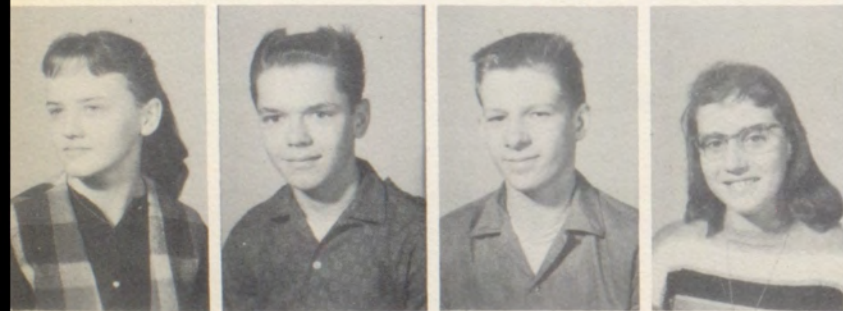

The sincere thanks of the Juniors goes to the sponsors, Eva Hosman, Robert Smith, and Betty Artus. Their help and cooperation made the year a complete success.

Sophomore History

One more notch up the ladder of education, the Sophomore Class of 1959-1960 jumped into a whirlwind of activities. Elected as class officers were: Jon Millner, president; Thomas Treece, vice-president; Rosalee Smith, secretary-treasurer; Sudy York and Charlotte Elliott, student council representatives.

Sports played an important part in the class this year. Those receiving letters were Bob Brick, Tom Camara, Larry Clark, John Elliot, Charles Love, Jon Millner, Lonnie Sutton, Fred Bridwell, and Tom Thomas. The Sophomore Class should also be proud of its female participants in sports. These girls lettered in basketball: Georgina Vetter, Ellen Sterne, Mary Ellen Garner, Sudy York, Dorothy Miller, Mickie Moffit, and Joyce Smith. Sudy York was once again elected cheerleader.

The class had a number of beauties and beaus to decorate the dances. Sophomore attendants at the Homecoming were Charlotte Elliott, escorted by Bob Brick, and Sandra Holman, escorted by Jon Millner. The F. F. A. Chapter selected Sudy York as the attendant to the Barnwarming Queen. She in turn selected Mack Elliot as her escort. Jon Millner, escorted by Rosalee Smith, was the Sophomore Attendant to the Valentine King at the annual F. H. A. Sweetheart Dance.

The Outstanding Sophomore Award was received by Sudy York. Seventeen honor Students served at the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Our class got money mad and by the help of bake sales, a smashing Sadie Hawkins Dance and April Fool's Dance ended up with over $500. We also received first place for our Homecoming float.

Sophomores could be found in F. H. A., F. F. A., F. T. A., "L" Club, Pep Squad, Band, on the Highlights staff and as librarians. Ellen Sterne and Rosalee Smith were on the Alamo staff.

Freshman History

All Freshman classes have their ups and downs, but it is mostly downs because of their being new in the higher education field. This year's Freshman class was somewhat different though because they had just as many ups as there were downs if not more.

First of all they elected the following people to lead the class for the first year: Jan Thomas, president; John Casteel, vice-president; Jean Ann Shields, secretary; Margaret Henderson, treasurer; Jerry Blackwell and Margaret Mosley, student council representatives.

The F. F. A., F. H. A., and F. T. A. were all well represented by Freshmen. Also the L. H. S. Band and Glee Club seemed to attract Freshmen.

At the Homecoming, Marilyn Knaus, escorted by Bob Campbell, and Jan Thomas, escorted by Karl Dewey, at the Barnwarming, Marilyn Knaus, escorted by Jerry Blackwell, and at the Valentine Dance, Bob Campbell, accompanied by Marilyn Knaus, represented the Freshman Class.

No Freshmen lettered in football or in basketball, but Bill Leverington, Robert Gardner, and George Douglas all lettered in track.

Marilyn Knaus was the Freshman cheerleader and did a good job.

The Freshmen had a concession stand at the L. H. S. Tournament which proved to be profitable. We also had a sock-hop which also helped our financial condition. The annual Freshman Day was a success and left a good impression on the future Freshmen.

The Freshman Class was also well represented on the Highlights staff and the Alamo staff. Our very able sponsors for the year were Mr. Donald Bruce and Mr. Aaron Hemphill.

L. H. S. is very proud of the track team's record for the year of 1959-60. They won, for the fourth year straight, the District Meet at Kirksville. Also, for a four-year-winning record, they triumphed at the Quint City Conference Meet and too, at the Quincy Relay Meet. It is agreed that the 1959-60 track team was very well balanced in ability throughout the season.

Custodians

We wish to thank Sol and Cappy for all the things they have done for the students this year. As always they attended every basketball game and all other activities put on by the students. They keep our school clean and without complaint render many other favors to the students and faculty as well. Old L. H. S. would certainly be lost without them so.....

Louisiana High School's Marching Band

Our school was well represented by the L. H. S. band in Hannibal, Band Day as well as in the musical half-time shows at the football games, the colorful Homecoming parade, Baccalaureate and Commencement and the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The fifty-four piece military band, under the able direction of Mr. Harold G. Webb, added something special to everything in which they participated.

For their valuable contribution to sports (half-time shows during the football season and pep band during basketball season) the athletic department presented the band with a plaque.

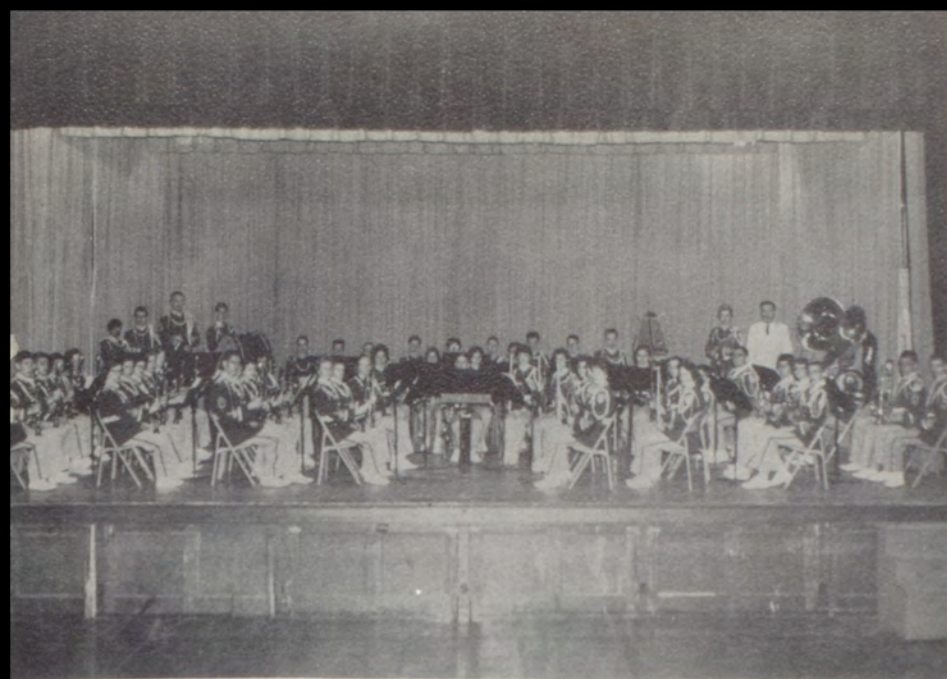

At the District Contest, the band received a II rating. The solos' and ensembles' ratings for the same contest were: Clarinet Quartet; Vicki Logan, Margaret Henderson, Janet Millner, Ray Krigbaum, II; Trumpet Trio; Paul Smith, Jim Worsham, Butch Elgin, I; Vocal Solo by Billy Bass, II; Piano Solos: Judy Glenn, I; Vicki Logan, II.

At State Contest, the trumpet trio received a II, and Judy Glenn received a III rating. The accompanist for the trio was Vicki Logan.

Band officers for the year were: Captain-Vicki Logan; Lieutenants-Judy Glenn, Ray Krigbaum, Diane De Yong, Glen Randall; Secretary-Judy Glenn; Treasurer-Ferne Roberts.

Congratulations to the band for a job well done, and we wish them the best of luck in the years to come.

The music reporter for the Alamo was Ferne Roberts.

The Student Council officers for the year 1959-60 were: President Jim York; Vice-President Steve Foland; and Secretary-Treasurer Diane DeYong.

The council this year sponsored the Homecoming parade, queen coronation, and dance. Representatives were sent to Jefferson City for the state convention. They were Forrest Triplett, Jon Millner, and Jan Thomas. During the basketball tournament, the council supervised all concessions. The council supervised the election of town officers in the School Government day. The Council has been very effective this year with the cooperation of the faculty and the student body. We wish to thank Mr. George Daniels for being a fine sponsor on the council.

Future Teachers of America

The Socrates Club was organized in 1956.

Officers elected for the 1959-60 school year were: president, Vicki Logan; vice-president, Ray Krigbaum; treasurer, Judy Glenn; secretary, Sandra Rule; historian, Ferne Roberts; and parliamentarian, Forrest Triplett. Highlights reporter was Judy Glenn.

The club is proud of the fact that their members increased from four to nineteen.

The F. T. A. sponsored a clothing drive. The president attended the state teacher's convention in St. Louis. The club also enjoyed talks by various teachers. The highlight of the year was the annual steak-fry.

We would like to thank our sponsors, Mr. Woolcott and Mr. Williams for their assistance in our projects.

Alamo reporter was Sandra Rule.

OFFICERS

President, Jim York; Vice-President, Steve Foland; Secretary-Treasurer, Mike Stephens.

One of the most popular organizations at L. H. S. is the letter club. It is made up of boys who have lettered in a varsity sport and had enough courage to face up to the annual initiation. The "L" Club strives to promote good sportsmanship and urge its members to be clean in body and soul.

These members are entitled to wear the red letter jackets which are so frequently seen in the corridors of L. H. S.

Coach Cunningham serves as the sponsor of the club.

They have various money-making projects during the year and the highlight of the year is the trip usually taken by seniors to Columbia for the state basketball tournament.

F. H. A.

The Future Homemakers of America Organization, Louisiana Chapter, was under the excellent leadership of Sandy Sitton, President for the year 1959-60. Other officers were: Bette Braxton, Senior Vice-President; Lona Dewey Wallace, Junior Vice-President; Roberta Smith, Secretary; Rosalee Smith, Treasurer; Sandra Holman, Historian; Louise Sterne, Degree Chairman; Jane Menefee, Program Chairman; Carolyn Penn, Parliamentarian; Sudy York, Song Leader; Jene Carr, Reporter.

The Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Betty Artus, served as Advisor with Mrs. Norman Sitton and Mrs. William H. Smith as Chapter Mothers.

Activities of the year were: a Christmas party, with gifts for underprivileged children, initiation of new members; and the Annual Spring Style Show given at the April P.T.A. meeting.

Money-making projects included: a soda stand at all the basketball games, a successful food service in the Home Economics room during the basketball tournament, and the traditional Sweetheart Dance in February. We were honored by having Sudy York elected as First Vice-President of the Regional Future Homemakers for 1960-61.

The Outstanding Future Homemakers for the year, Jene Carr and Sudy York, were elected by the Chapter and presented medals at the Awards Assembly.

The year ended with the installation of officers for next year.

We had a fine year and our hope is that all who were members have been helped to become better "Future Homemakers."

The F. F. A. is composed of a group of students who in the welfare of their school and country try to improve the standing of farm work and the many necessary things that need to be done to improve the U. S. A. in the Agricultural field. Their able sponsor Mr. Bob Smith is a well qualified instructor and we all are proud to have him head of this organization.

Pep Squad

The year of the 1960 Louisiana Pep Squad began under the leadership of president, Sudy York; vice-president, Sissy Taliaferro; and secretary-treasurer, Rita Sparks. Pep squad sponsor was Mr. Bruce.

The pep squad decided on a point system for earning letters. This turned out to be very successful. Another annual affair of the pep squad is to select a candidate for queen at the Bowling Green Tournament. Miss Sandra Rule was elected candidate for our school.

The enrollment at the beginning of school was 29 members, and 18 of those members earned letters.

We are proud of our pep squad and we hope they continue to keep up the good work!

Cheerleaders

CENTER (captain) Rita Moore. BACK ROW: Sudy York, Lona Dewey, Sis Taliaferro, Marilyn Knaus, and Charlotte Wood.

At every sport's function in which L. H. S. is involved you will always find our devoted cheerleaders clad in their red and white spurring our team on to victory or consoling them if they were losing and urging them to keep fighting.

They seem to have an endless source of energy when it came to cheerleading. In every ball game, home or away, Louisiana was always represented by its cheerleaders. They did a tremendous job in controlling the crowds and always displayed good sportsmanship. Cheerleaders add a significant part to any sport's function and it was very obvious how much Louisiana's cheerleaders added to ours.

Our cheerleaders are to be commended for a job expertly done.
