ALAMO

For text illiterate people, this means:

What's up LHS? This year we transformed our yearbook to show the 2008-2009 school year through the eyes of an LHS student. As everyone knows, we students couldn't go a day without our cell phones, and even though prohibited in class, some phones still ring, and text messages were sent and received. Throughout the pages, you will see how we carried over that texting theme in our picture captions and page copy. We really aren't illiterate, just texting like teens!

Our Little Sunshine has grown to be a beautiful young woman with the morals and values that we've always dreamt our children would have. Your strength in character and ability to forgive has been an inspiration to us. God has touched your heart and you've touched ours. Now, go out and share the wealth of your wisdom and keep your thirst for knowledge alive. We're so proud of you! Keep Shining!
Love, Mom and Dad

Katherine Kristine Dewey

It seems like only yesterday that you were starting kindergarten, and now you are ready to graduate high school! You have grown into a loving and caring young woman and we are so proud of you. Always stay beautiful on the inside as you are on the outside and you will go far. We love you so much and remember, you will always be our little baby.

This year's flag squad was considered stiff competition. In Washington, they placed first in their division while second overall. They also placed first in every local competition, as well. Co-captains Ashley Newman and Jessica Hall will surely be missed.
